

Dear Mr. Glan,

On behalf of the staff and Minnie I congratulate you on your 50th birthday. We would like to take this moment to dedicate a few words to our "Great Queen" on her birthday.

We would like to thank you for your dedication (for which we are so dedicated) to dedicating this dedication to you and endless persistence, through trials and trib, through leers and noes and through the enormous advances of certain refusers where there is no need to persist, in bringing us the most beautiful of ideas, romance, art, truth, and moral perspective ensuring not one of us spends the night in dis-comfort.

And the date always of stuff is on too.

Thank you, congratulations, and best of luck, coming to you from Deborah, Minnie, I and the rest of the Shojo Magic Staff.

Thank you so much

What took you so long?

● Princess Sango has been kidnapped and is being forced into a political marriage. "By no means will I lead such a life!" she protests, and then escapes from the castle and has a fateful encounter with Shindai. At first she thinks she's jumped out of the frying pan and into the fire, because Shindai seems like the worst man alive, but then they embark on a journey to seek out the "magic lamp!" Kayono draws a world of fantasy love. ♥
